

Károli Gáspár University
of the Reformed Church in Hungary

The Institute of History and the Research group for the Near and Middle East of the Károli Gáspár Reformed University, and the Department of Turkic Studies of Eötvös Loránd University cordially invite you to the following online event:

VÁMBÉRY STUDIES COLLOQUIUM

12 February 2021 (Friday)

Opening address:

09.00. (CET). István Vásáry (member of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences, ELTE University, Department of Turkic Studies, Budapest):

Has Vámbéry's lifework any relevance for today?

First panel: Vámbéry and Asia

Chair: Miklós Sárközy

09.10. Keynote lecture:

Michael Knüppel (Liaocheng University / China, Arctic Studies Center [ASC]):

Le Péril jaune – Á. Vámbéry and his views on China and Japan

09.50. Gábor Fodor (Director of the Hungarian Cultural Institute of Istanbul) - György Csorba (Researcher, Hungarian National Assembly, Information Services for MPs, Budapest):

Hungarian émigrés, Turkish Turanists. Some remarks on Vámbéry's social network from Constantinople to Budapest

10.10. Sebastian Cwiklinski, (Freie Universität, Institut für Turkologie, Berlin):

Ármin Vámbéry on the Balkan wars 1912/13

Károli Gáspár University
of the Reformed Church in Hungary

Discussion

Second panel: Vámbéry and his Manuscripts

Chair: Sebastian Cwiklinski

11.30. Benedek Péri (ELTE University, Head of Department of Turkic Studies, Budapest):

On Ármin Vámbéry's Central Asian manuscripts

11.50. Miklós Sárközy (Institute of History, Károli Gáspár University of the Hungarian Reformed Church, Budapest):

The manuscripts of Narshakhī's Tārīkh-i Bukhārā and Ármin Vámbéry's History of Bokhara

Discussion

Third panel: Vámbéry and his Contemporaries

Chair: Michael Knüppel

13.00. David Mandler (Stuyvesant High School, New York):

Making Arminius Vámbéry: Receptions in Great Britain

13.20. Hedvig Ujvári (Péter Pázmány Catholic University, Budapest):

Die Wiener Weltausstellung 1873 - Die Berichterstattung von Vámbéry und Max Nordau über die orientalische Abteilung

13.50. Kinga Dévényi (Corvinus University of Budapest, Oriental Collection of the Library of the Hungarian Academy of Sciences):

In the eyes of the author of the commemorative speech: Arminius Vámbéry as seen by Ignaz Goldziher

Discussion

Károli Gáspár University
of the Reformed Church in Hungary

14.30. Concluding remarks: Michael Knüppel, Miklós Sárközy

The event is free and everybody is welcome to join with the following Zoom link: